JOIN OUR WHATSAPP GROUPS

Shenzhen FinTech Competition 2026 in China (Fully Funded)

By Muhammad Saim Rasheed - October 10, 2026

Applications are now open for the Shenzhen FinTech Competition 2026 (FinTechathon) – International Track, an international competition for university students interested in artificial intelligence (AI) and financial technology. Hosted by Tsinghua University's PBC School of Finance in collaboration with WeBank, the competition invites students to develop AI-powered solutions to real-world financial challenges under the theme "AI as a Financial Participant." Selected applicants will receive RMB 250,000, international travel, and accommodation. More details are below.

Quick Overview

- Competition: 2026 Shenzhen International FinTech Competition (FinTechathon)
- Track: International Track
- Host: Tsinghua University's PBC School of Finance, with WeBank
- Location: Shenzhen, China
- Benefits: Fully Funded
- Deadline: 20 October 2026

Financial Benefits and Awards

The competition offers a total prize pool of RMB 250,000, distributed across the following awards:

- First Prize: RMB 100,000
- Second Prize: RMB 80,000
- Third Prize: RMB 50,000
- Best Innovation Award: RMB 20,000
- Excellence Awards: Additional awards for selected teams
- No registration fee.
- International round-trip travel and accommodation

About the Competition

The FinTechathon International Track provides a platform for university students to explore the intersection of artificial intelligence and financial services. Participants will work in teams to develop innovative AI-based solutions addressing practical financial needs.

The competition encourages collaboration across universities, academic disciplines, and national borders, allowing students to demonstrate their technical abilities, gain international exposure, and connect with the financial technology industry.

Program Dates

- Check-in & WeBank HQ Visit (Shenzhen): 20 November 2026
- Grand Final & Awards Ceremony (Shenzhen): 21 – 23 November 2026

Eligibility Criteria

To apply, candidates must meet the following requirements:

- Be a full-time undergraduate, master's, or PhD student enrolled at a university or research institution outside Mainland China, Hong Kong SAR, Macao SAR, and Chinese Taipei.
- Form a team of 2–5 students.
- Ensure at least 60% of team members are non-Chinese nationals.
- Participate in only one team across the competition's two tracks.
- Submit all required materials in English.

Competition Topics

- Topics (Choose One of Six):
  - Topic A: Personal Finance Assistant
  - Topic B: Wealth Advisory Agent
  - Topic C: Cross-border & Student Finance Assistant
  - Topic D: Insurance Assistant
  - Topic E: SME Finance Copilot
  - Topic F: Agent Wallet (Autonomous On-chain Wallet – Includes 0–5 point challenge bonus)

How to Apply for the Shenzhen FinTech Competition 2026 in China?

Read the official competition guidelines and problem descriptions. The link to the official website is below.

APPLY NOW FOR THE FINTECH COMPETITION CHINA

Also Check:

- United Nations University (UNU) Youth Summit in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Flights, stay, Meals, and visa fees are covered.

Follow us on Social Media:

Muhammad Saim Rasheed

https://opportunitiescorners.com/

As Opportunities Corners founder, my name is Muhammad Saim Rasheed. I completed my higher education from University of Engineering and Technology, Peshawar. I have been to Egypt for the AIESEC internship. In addition, I am an alumnus of the SUSI Exchange Program. I participated in the Young Leaders Fellowship in the Maldives, and International Youth Leadership Summit in Turkey. Since 2017, I have participated in numerous educational programs. I therefore created Opportunities Corners based on my own personal experiences, and I mentor students who are eager and enthusiastic about pursuing fully funded opportunities. Read our Disclaimer Policy. Read About me. I am also Featured by Pakistan-U.S. Alumni Network. For Advertisement and Promotions, please email opportunitiescorners.com@gmail.com.